Step By Step Guide

“we are watching you and we are not going away”

If the GOP has made you unhappy then do something about that. Be the GOP.

In the next 2 months the Republican units all across Virginia will once again choose their leaders. It is time for conservatives to reclaim the party that use to stand for Jeffersonian Constitutional Republicanism.

Maybe it is time you stood up to take the reigns.
You will have a direct influence on what happens in politics.

Definitions:

Mass Meeting: A meeting where a mass of registered voters that consider themselves “Republicans” show up when a meeting is called to choose the leadership of the party.

Unit Committee: A committee of leaders that provide county level support for the Republican Party in Virginia. These people have paid to be official party members.

Unit Chairman: The leader of the Unit Committee selected at the mass meeting. This person is in charge of the committee and sets the tone and direction of the party in the county you live in.

Step One:

Determine to Run as Chairman

Step Two:

Find out when the “Mass Meeting” will be held

Step 3

Find out who would make a good addition to your leadership team once you have won.

Step 4

Get as many people as possible to attend that meeting that are registered qualified voters to support you.

Step 4

Win

Step 5

Lead

Typically with just 20 to 30 people on your side you can ensure proper leadership is running the Republican Party Unit in your county.

A Mass Meeting will be called in your county soon. This is required to be done with at minimum 7 days notice. This is done to ensure the establishment can keep it's hand on the political steering wheel.

What you must do is prepare enough supporters that will commit to dropping what they are doing to support you on the day when the meeting has been called.

Start Now!

You may be fortunate enough to live in a County that has a top notch Unit Chairman...there are a couple.

However, if your reading this you are either;

A. An RPV Chair that is concerned about the initiative being presented in this document

B. A candidate that seeks to unseat the existing chairman.

There is a small window of time left before the next Mass Meeting is called. February is the assumed month that this will take place. It will take a concerted effort on your part to find the supporters needed to succeed. This will be a great test of your leadership ability.

How a mass meeting works according to RPV rules: The following information comes from the RPV document called "Survival Guide for Unit Chairman for 2010" It was also confirmed by phone by calling the RPV.

Locally, you are required by the Party Plan to hold a Mass Meeting...to elect...a Unit Chair and the members of your unit committee, for a term of 2 years. You will also be electing a vice-chair, secretary, treasurer and others (if called for in your by-laws) either at the same time your unit chair and committee is elected or by the unit committee at the first meeting that takes place after the new committee is in place. When you elect these officers may already be covered in your local by-laws. If it is not, your unit committee should make a determination of when they will be elected.

A minimum of seven (7) days written notice is required to hold a legal unit committee meeting.

You may require a pre-filing fee for an individual to run for Unit Chair, as long as it is included in the call. You may also require dues for membership on the unit committee, either to accompany pre-filing or to be paid by some other date.

You may require each person who pre-files to sign a statement saying that they intend to support all of our nominees in the ensuing election. For candidates for Unit Chair, Unit officer or Unit Committee, you may require this for the two-year term of office.

In order to be elected a Delegate to any convention; or to be a Unit Chair, officer or committee member; or to vote in a mass meeting, party canvass of convention, an individual must be a registered voter in your locality/applicable Congressional District by the date of the pre-filing deadline or, if you are not using pre-filing, the date of your mass meeting, canvass or convention.

The Mass Meeting

Registration for participation(voting) must be permitted at the time and place of the mass meeting, canvass or convention. Your committee cannot require advance registration for the meeting. Your committee can, however, require pre-filing for someone to be elected as a committee member, convention delegate, unit chairman, or nominee for elected office.
